It is not only at Homestead that there dissatisfaction among the iron works. A dispatch from Free-trade Canada were the information that one thound nailers are on a stike for increased ages in Montreal. Neither Protection or Free-trade have anything to do with use troubles.

The country is warned against a certain counterfeit five-dollar bill said to be in circulation, but the particular danger against which the country should be warned is the widd cat money plank in the Democratic platform. As a demoralizer of the currency counterfeits are nowhere in comparison.

Over there-they are all for him.
His Free-trade policy, if adopted in this country, would mean millions upon millions to British millions to British manufacturers and manufacturers and British workingmen.

But it would come out of the pockets of American manufacturers and out of the wages of American labor.
Long before the Revolution, England

Long before the Revolution, England resolved that America should never manufacture for herself.

manufacture for herself.

During the first half of the eighteenth century the poor colonists made a feeble beginning in the fabrication of coarse woolens, linens and hats. English manufacturers complained of this to their government and Parliament interfered—in what manner we shall let ADAM SMITH, the founder of the Free-trade school, relate. We extract from his Wealth of Nations, published in 17%: England prohibits the exportation from one province to another by water and even by land upon horse-back or in a cart. of hats, of wool and woolen goods of American production, a regulation which effectually prevents the establishment of a for distant sale, and confines the industries of her colonists in this way to such coarse and homehold manufactures as a private family commonly makes for its neight bors in the same province.

That policy was adhered to with relentless vigor by England down to the Revolution.

WHAT more in the way of a Tariff plank could the importers and British could the importers and British plank could the importers and British could be compared to the campaign funds expected from the sources named.

The Democratic Tariff plank is won-derfully like the deliverances on the same subject by the old labor-owing Free-traders in the days when they held black workingmen in bondage. The doctrine is precisely the same.

It is a day of small things with the critics of the President, but one of the smallest is their attempt to make political capital out of the Homestead riot. The chain by which they try to connect the administration with the strike is made up wholly of missing links.

For the decade from 1890 to 1890 the decrease in the per capita indebtedness, National, state and local, from $60.73 to $33.37. is marvelous within itself, but the value of property assessed for taxation increased during the same period from $17.00,000,000.00 $825,500,000.000, or 50 per cent., indicating a reduction of debt and an increase of wealth for the country unprecedented in modern times, yet all this was done under the robber Tariff and an impoverishing system of taxing people to death.

If a debt per capita of $90.73 was to be assessed and paid upon a capitalization of $17,000,000,000, how much easier can a debt of $833.37 be assessed upon a capitalization of $25,500,000,000, and yet people say times never were so hard as now. FOR the decade from 1880 to 1890 the

PROPERLY understood, the term "Free-trade" means not the abolition of all Tariffs, but that import trade shall be free of any taxes levied to protect home industry. Such taxes as imports can free of any taxes levied to protect home industry. Such taxes as imports can easily bear and still monopolize the American market are said to be imposed for revenue only. Thus large revenues may be raised by taxing imports, and yet there will be a condition of "Freeyet there will be a condition of Free trade," that is of trade free from Pro tective, defensive or discriminated taxes adjusted to benefit home industries.

adjusted to benefit home industries. Free-trade thus means simply the trade free from Protective but not from revenue taxes. The Democratic demand is not to destroy the Tariff allogether, but to adjust its oit will not protect home intended to the superior of the Martines, but merely raise revenue and not interfere with the control of the American market by foreign manufacturers.
